CEO and Board Chair Letter

Shawna Forsberg

Gail DeBoer

Each year, we become more and more convinced that the Omaha-Council Bluffs metro is a place like no other.

Last year, community members rallied together after the devastating flooding that swept across Nebraska and Iowa. The outpouring of generosity that followed was truly humbling to witness, and together, we were able to come to the aid of thousands of Nebraskans and Iowans who had lost their homes, livestock and more.

And that's not all. With your support, we were making great strides towards our overall goal of impacting poverty, with data showing 7,000 fewer people were living in poverty in the Omaha-Council Bluffs metro.

But then 2020 delivered another heavy blow – the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Businesses shut their doors. Store shelves sat empty. Family routines were disrupted. Suddenly, thousands of people were out of work, taking care of loved ones – with nowhere left to turn.

Yet even during this challenging time, you didn't turn away. You didn't back down. You, the citizens of the Omaha-Council Bluffs metro, stepped up again and asked, "How can we help?"

Once again, we were completely overwhelmed by the depths of your generosity. With your support and the immediate response from UWM's Board of Directors, the Executive Committee and thought leaders from across the metro, United Way and our partners were able to quickly adapt to meet community needs. We invested in programs immediately responding to the pandemic, helping hundreds of people who were struggling. You'll learn even more about the impact you made in the pages of this report.

As we move forward, you will continue to play a pivotal role in this community and its ability to navigate the difficult months ahead. The pandemic continues to impact the physical, mental and financial health of thousands right here in the Omaha-Council Bluffs metro. Social and economic disparities continue to disproportionately affect minority populations. It's clear our community has a long way to go if we're going to ensure more people receive the opportunity to grow and thrive.

Thankfully, we know that we are up to the challenge. United Way of the Midlands has been responding to crises and serving the underserved for 97 years, and that's thanks to the spirit of generosity that runs deep in this community. With your help, we will continue to adapt to meet community needs, invest donor dollars in the most effective programs and maintain our commitment to financial efficiency. With your guidance, we will remain responsive to donor and community interests. And with your insight, we will continue to forge strong community partnerships so more people receive the help they need to get back on their feet.

You are proof that, even during a time characterized by isolation and solitude, we remain united. Thank you for giving from the heart and supporting community members who are struggling during this difficult time.

Fiscal Year 2019-2020

REVENUES

EFFICIENCY RATIO:

92 cents of every donor dollar invested into the community.

* After less allowance for collection loss the total net revenue is $18.5 million.

 Calculated overhead rate, per generally accepted accounting principles is 10.3%. The difference between this and the 92 cents of donor dollars going to the community relates to nonprofit accounting requirements to include such things as in-kind gifts in both revenue and expense. Neither of these adds to or detracts from community investment, and when they cancel each other out from the calculation, the 92 cents reflects the true donor impact.

Thanks to YOU, we were able to provide a circle of support for thousands of our neighbors during a very challenging year.

UWM Highlights:

$1.4 million

Progress

Prior to COVID-19, we were making great strides as an organization and as a community, thanks to your support.

- In 2019, floodwaters swept across Nebraska and Iowa, displacing families, destroying homes and devastating communities. But with your help, we raised incremental dollars for immediate crisis response and long-term recovery efforts.
- Recently released data from an American Community Survey showed the number of people in poverty had decreased by 7% here in the metro, meaning 7,000 fewer people were living in poverty.

And United Way donors provided:

16,000 people mentoring and out of school time supports.

5,900 young people had career training and secured employment.

8,100 adults gained skill development and job placement.

Disruption

Then COVID-19 disrupted the way we ALL work and live, creating an entirely new demographic: people who are newly in-need, out of work, taking care of loved ones... with no idea where to turn. This severely affected previously made gains and caused existing social and economic disparities to widen.

COVID-19 Effects

Unemployment reached as high as 10%.

Local agencies served 3X more individuals to help people meet their basic needs.

United Way funded more than 4 million meals.

23% of Nebraskans and 24% of Iowans have missed a rent or mortgage payment.¹

Our Response to the COVID-19 Pandemic

Thankfully, due to the immediate response from our amazing Board of Directors, the Executive Committee, thought leaders from across the metro and YOU, United Way and our partners have been able to quickly adapt to meet changing community needs.

We invested dollars in nonprofit programs immediately responding to the pandemic, and for the next fiscal year, we shortened our community investments from a two-year to a one-year timeframe and created two rounds of funding. This ensured we could fund programs meeting people's immediate basic needs as well as education and financial stability programs addressing the long-term challenges created by the pandemic.

You'll see the results of our united efforts this past year throughout the pages of this report. Our strength truly lies in our ability to work together to determine the best way to adapt and move forward.

Working Together to Meet Increased Needs

#MaskUpMetro

We partnered with Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Nebraska, First National Bank of Omaha, Mutual of Omaha and the Greater Omaha Chamber of Commerce on our Mask Up Metro awareness campaign, which encourages community members to wear masks to mitigate the spread of COVID-19. The City of Omaha Fire Department, Ideal Images, Mangelsen's, the Omaha Storm Chasers and Union Omaha donated more than 18,000 masks to nonprofit agencies as part of the campaign.

Scouting for Food

We partnered with the Boy Scouts of America to host "Scouting for Food," a food drive benefiting the Food Bank of the Heartland. With the support of our sponsors, Werner Enterprises and Target, the Scouts were able to collect more than 75,000 meals, ensuring more people can feed their families here in our community!

Housing Stability Program

To respond to increased needs for housing support due to COVID-19, we created the Housing Stability Program to assist families with a rental or mortgage payment. So far, the program has provided support to 237 households needing mortgage/rent assistance and referred more than 700 additional individuals to other area programs that could meet their housing needs.

Serving Nebraska and Iowa During the Pandemic

In March, calls from people seeking information about COVID-19 started pouring in, and 211 became even busier after they started providing after-hours support for the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services and Douglas County Health Department.

In addition, the Iowa Department of Public Health asked 211 to stand up as the COVID-19 hotline for the state of Iowa. The UWM 211 Helpline answers calls for Western Iowa and the Quad Cities area 24/7 and for the entire state of Iowa evenings and weekends.

Earlier in the year, 211 utilized Nebraska State funding to staff the Helpline overnight and on weekends. To further accommodate the increase in demand due to the pandemic, 211 invested in a scheduling software to accommodate the staff and volunteers taking calls and enhanced its texting capabilities to push out informational update texts to those who subscribed.

Here's a quick snapshot of the volume of calls, texts, emails and web visits that 211 has received during the 2019-20 fiscal year, illustrating the increased need in our community:

140,685
total contacts

86%
increase in texting

170% increase in contacts during the pandemic

The top four needs during this time were:

30%
Housing

27%
Utility Assistance

11%
Health Care

9%
Food

During trying times like we've been experiencing, more people than ever need up-to-date information and access to local resources that can meet their needs. The 211 Helpline has worked tirelessly this last year to increase its capacity, expand outreach and partner with additional organizations so that they can serve even more of our neighbors.

Sally and Jason are Safe at Home

Sally* and her husband, Jason, were getting increasingly worried.

Prior to the pandemic, Jason worked as a self-employed HVAC installation and repairperson. Meanwhile, Sally was in the midst of a job hunt.

But then COVID-19 turned their worlds upside down.

Jason was no longer able to find work, and the soaring unemployment rates made Sally's job search all but impossible. The bills started to pile up, and the couple started digging into their savings in order to make ends meet.

When their savings ran dry, Sally and Jason felt panic start to settle in. How were they going to keep a roof over their heads and care for their three children?

Thankfully, they reached out to a program at Heartland Family Service that is funded by United Way donors like you! A case manager was able to help them obtain rental and utilities assistance. With the case manager's guidance, Sally also was able to seek out medical insurance and get help obtaining unemployment benefits.

Sally expressed her appreciation for the genuine care and understanding she received from the case manager. She and Jason received the help they needed quickly during a time of crisis, ensuring their family could stay safely in their home during the pandemic.

Addressing Social Disparity

For 97 years, we have maintained a long-standing commitment to addressing social and economic disparities by serving the underserved and partnering with other organizations that are working to create a community where more people can thrive and grow.

However, this past year COVID-19 has only served to further highlight the critical need to support vulnerable populations, many of who are disproportionately impacted due to existing inequities. To move forward, we are diligently working to learn more about the experiences of different communities and to strive for inclusivity and equity so individuals and families can lead the best lives possible.

- UWM joined 150 corporate leaders and signed a statement against racism and a commitment to address racial injustice.
- UWM maintains racial equity as one of the criteria in making community investments. Within the grant application for local agencies, we require applicants to provide their non-discrimination policy.
- Agencies receiving United Way funding are prohibited from discriminating against staff or clients on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, creed, age, national origin or ancestry, marital status, pregnancy, veteran or reserve status, physical or mental disability, LGBT (sexual orientation and gender identity), or any other protected status. (Grant Agreement, Section IV – Non-Discrimination)
- UWM is a member of the Commitment to Opportunity, Diversity and Equity (CODE) Coalition. By joining CODE, leaders pledge to increase diversity in their organizations and to create an inclusive work environment for all employees.
- UWM will partner with Greater Omaha Chamber, Urban League of Nebraska and the Latino Center of the Midlands during the second phase of Strategic4Sight project, with the ultimate goal of creating economic development strategies that are inclusive, next-generation-focused and visionary.
- UWM conducts annual equity training, focused on race and ethnicity, for all board members and staff.

A Message from our President and CEO

“At United Way of the Midlands, our diverse donors, volunteers and staff all care deeply for this community and the people who live here. We understand there is still a long road ahead. Today, we have an opportunity to rewrite that narrative. In the days, months, years and even generations to come we need to join together and strive for inclusivity and equity so individuals and families can lead the best lives possible.

UWM will strive to stay informed, seek understanding and set a neutral table where regardless of your income, race, gender, sexual orientation, political or religious beliefs—we will come and work together to determine the best path forward. Right now, we’re working with local officials, our nonprofit partners and our 211 Helpline so that we can connect those who are struggling to the resources and services needed, including those who are still reeling from the effects of COVID-19.

To quote Brian Gallagher, President and CEO of United Way Worldwide, ‘We must all do our part, working United, to make our communities the places that we need them to be—equitable, respectful and opportunity-filled. We, as a society, can and must do better to guarantee that the basic human rights and freedoms of every person in every community are protected.’”

Our Partners:

Kelsey is Confident and Learning to Trust Others

Kelsey* is a local high school student.

After school she attends Boys & Girls Clubs of the Midlands with her younger siblings, which is partially funded by United Way donors like YOU.

When she first joined the club, Kelsey was withdrawn, very shy and she often checked in on her siblings to make sure they were okay during their activities.

At meal time, she made sure all her siblings ate before she did, and it became apparent to staff that she was bearing responsibility to take care of her siblings at home.

With support from staff, Kelsey was encouraged to try activities to help her break out of her shell, including art and STEM, and she slowly began to trust the staff to take care of her siblings.

Staff also gave Kelsey and her family clothing donations, which helped increase her confidence. Once Kelsey realized that she and her siblings were safe there, she grew into one of the club's happiest and most vocal youth.

Kelsey learned how to be a kid again, grew close to staff and club members and discovered new interests.

She participates in almost every club activity and field trip and is now seen as a leader by those around her.

Your support helped people access job training, personal finance classes, post-secondary education support and opportunities to upskill/reskill for employment.

12,770
services for skill development, job placement and asset development for adults were delivered.

9,006
services to help youth prepare for careers and secure employment were provided.

Tax assistance programs put $9.5 million back into the pockets of hard working individuals and families in our community.

37% reported they would use their refund to pay down debt.

Opportunity Youth

The partners who comprise the Opportunity Youth Alliance have been hard at work to assist youth who have been disconnected from school or work. This initiative has served 1,355 youth since it was launched in 2017, and as more and more youth become disconnected due to COVID-19, the services provided will be more important than ever. We are thankful for Women United's tireless support of this work.

Patricia Feels Safe and Secure Again

Patricia* is a 61-year-old local homeowner who lives alone. She has worked at a major retailer for the past several years and she helps take care of her mother, who is in poor health and lives alone as well.

Even though Patricia works hard to pay for her home and necessities, she did not have enough income to cover home repair costs and her roof needed replaced badly.

There were several leaks throughout her home that were so large she had to use inflatable kids' pools to catch the runoff.

She felt helpless as she watched her home deteriorate before her eyes. Then she was connected to a local program at Project Houseworks that is funded by United Way donors like YOU.

Through the program, professionals replaced her roof and gutters, repaired her siding, front door and the ceiling where her roof was leaking, installed new electric outlets and piping under her kitchen sink and made other small repairs throughout her home.

When Patricia did a final walkthrough once all the repairs were made, she was so grateful she literally danced from room to room.

She said that getting her house back was the best present anyone had ever given her, and she can now live safely in her home without constant worry.

2019-20 TOP 100 CAMPAIGNS

It is truly humbling to see how the Omaha-Council Bluffs metro comes together each year to help our neighbors who need it most. We are extremely grateful for the support we receive from all 600 of our partner organizations, and we'd like to extend a special thanks to the 100 companies who raised the most during the last fiscal year.

ANNUAL MEETING AWARD WINNERS

The UWM Campaign Recognition Awards honor those companies who went above and beyond to support United Way of the Midlands during the 2019 campaign.

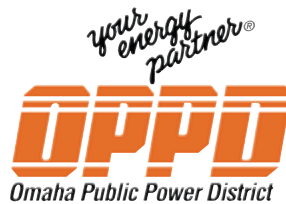

Approximately 600 organizations generously dedicated their time and financial support to United Way of the Midlands during the 2019 campaign, empowering us to create lasting change within the community. To celebrate their efforts, we will present our third annual Campaign Recognition Awards at our Annual Meeting.

We believe the following awards capture the unique and varied nature of our partnerships: Volunteer Organization of the Year, New Business Partner of the Year and Corporate Partners of the Year. Because we know small organizations can still make a big impact, the Corporate Partner of the Year award will once again be presented to companies within four different employee size categories.

Our intent is to award a single winner in each category, but we wanted to share the top contenders for each award with you as well.

TOCQUEVILLE SOCIETY

When United Way of the Midlands looks to the past, present or future, we see our generous Tocqueville Society members, who contribute $10,000 or more annually to our campaign. Since the Tocqueville Society was first founded in 1988, Tocqueville members have been leaders and advocates for our work. It's because of their generosity that more than $100 million in Tocqueville donations have been invested back into our community, $5.5 million of which Tocqueville Society members raised in 2019 alone.

We thank them for their extraordinary commitment, which enables us to respond and adapt to changing community needs and help those who are struggling get back on their feet.
